Random List of 1996 City Managers Still Serving in the Same City in 2011

Serving as a City Manager is a demanding task. Longevity statistics vary, but the average length of tenure in one City is generally about 5-years. A run of 15-years in one place is a rare accomplishment. We pawed through the old ICMA Who's Who to see if we could find some 1996 City Managers still trucking along in the same place, and we found some good ones.

This means, of course, that those who are not ICMA members and are not included in the directory might be overlooked. For instance, Bellflower City Manager Mike Egan, who is in his 14th year, appointed in 1997, might have been missed if we relied completely on the directory. Here's hoping Mike's 15th year is one of his best.

We have included veteran Lakewood City Manager Howard L. Chambers in a number of previous lists. He was appointed to the top spot in Lakewood in 1976. He changed his mind about retiring this year, and says he plans to serve, at least, another 18 months. Howard's rise from Recreation Leader to City Manager is an amazing story. He was not quite 32-years old at his appointment. He has been an outstanding mentor to many, and will be sorely missed if he ever retires.

Retiring Mountain View City Manager Kevin C. Duggan has earned the respect and admiration of his peers as a true leader in the City Manager craft. Kevin has served as President of CAL-ICMA and the City Managers' Department of the League of California Cities. Kevin began his municipal management career in 1971 in a Mountain View Administrative Intern post. In 1972 he took a similar position in Campbell, and in 1973 he was hired as a Staff Assistant in Campbell. He rose through the organization as an Administrative Assistant in 1974; Assistant to the City Manager in 1976; and Assistant City Manager in 1982. Kevin was appointed Campbell's City Manager in 1984. He served there for half-a-dozen years until he was selected to be the Mountain View City Manager in 1990 where he has served since. Kevin earned a BA and MPA from San Jose State University. In 2008 ICMA presented him with a 35-year Service Award.

"About the only problem with success is that it does not teach you how to deal with failure."

He was appointed City Manager in April, 1990. Doug has a BA from the University of California. Doug was a hit with his ukulele ditty urging the State to budget without taking local revenues. He is known as the "swimming city manager," completing the "from the shore-out and around Alcatraz Island and return" swim without a wetsuit. Listen to his song:

City of Lakewood Honored by CPRS

Lakewood also received an "Award of Excellence" for its 2010 Fall/Winter Recreation Program catalog.

We have certainly missed a few City Managers who have served since 1996 in the same jurisdiction, and we apologize for the oversight and lack of space. Ray Taylor of Westlake Village comes to mind, and perhaps Leroy Jackson in Torrance. Ray started in Simi Valley as an Administrative Assistant in 1977. He left Simi Valley in 1982 to be the Assistant City Manager in Rolling Hills Estates. He served part of 1985 as the Ojai City Manager, and returned to Rolling Hills Estates as City Manager that year. In 1990 he worked for a recruitment consultant firm, and in 1991 was appointed Malibu City Manager. He was selected for the Westlake Village post in 1993. Ray has a 30-year ICMA Service Award. LeRoy J. Jackson was an Administrative Intern in Pasadena in 1965. In 1966 he began his career ladder climb in Torrance as a Personnel Analyst; 1968, Senior Administrative Assistant; 1971, Assistant to the City Manager; 1979, Chief Assistant to the City Manager; 1981, Assistant City Manager; and finally, he was appointed City Manager in 1983.

Again, we apologize to those we missed and we promise to devise new ways of including a broader listing of city managers. Thank you all for your readership and support. Please drop us a line. We truly enjoy hearing from you. Your suggestions are always welcome, though, as we've said before, we cannot promise to use them all, we only promise full consideration.

Jeff's father John Maltbie served as City Manager in Milpitas and Glendale, Arizona, and as San Mateo County Manager. The San Carlos City Manager recruitment was assisted by Bob Murray & Associates. Long Beach City Manager Pat West received approval of his recommendation to save about $2.5 million by cancelling planned police and firefighter academies this year. Orland City Manager Paul Poczobut Jr. has manned the Glenn County exhibit booth over the weekends at the California State Fair. Orland has once again decided to contribute to the event. Retired Lancaster City Manager Jim Gilley is enjoying life living in Nevada.

Retired Milpitas City Manager James Patrick Connolly passed away in February due to complications from Parkinson's disease. He was 79. Jim went to work in Milpitas in October, 1959, and began a succession of positions of Planning Technician, Zoning Administrator, Planning Director, Community Development Director, and Deputy City Manager. He was appointed to the Milpitas City Manager post in 1986 and retired seven years later. Milpitas had a population of 6,000 when he went to work there, and about 50,000 at his retirement.

Newport Beach City Council has voted 5-2 to direct City Manager Dave Kiff to have a statue of former California Governor and President of the United States Ronald Reagan erected at Castaways Park, near West Coast Highway and Dover Drive. Councilman Keith Curry, supporting the tribute said, "Our children are losing our touchstones to our past." Tip of the hat to retired Lakeport City Manager Randy Johnsen! Randy has done an "interim gig" or two since retirement, but these days he enjoys his four grandchildren, and plays guitar and sings lead in a bluegrass/gospel band. Though AB 3034 calls for a high speed rail system to follow existing transportation corridors, and minimize impacts to the natural environment, it appears that at least one of the proposed routes will slice through highly productive farmland. Central Valley farmer Keith Gardiner says he generally supports the rail project because of its transportation and job creation benefits, but if the system steers away from the existing railroad routes and runs through agricultural land it will cause hundreds of thousands of dollars of additional costs and make some land abutting the tracks unproductive. The high-speed rail system's objective is to improve communities, not degrade them.

Sacramento Interim City Manager Gus Vina has been trying to work through the issues of a performance review and a controversial fire cost recovery program known as the "crash tax." Menifee's new City Manager Bill Rawlings, 48, is the former Redevelopment Director in Vista. The report was issued without a meeting with Finance Director Tina Olson in an attempt to discredit RDAs, according to Marc. John Shirey has repeatedly pointed out that RDAs have been California's most successful Economic Development strategy bringing millions in development and thousands of jobs to the State. Governor Jerry Brown is trying to eliminate RDAs to use the money to bail out the failing State budget. Redondo Beach City Manager Bill Workman said that the deaths of millions of sardines that clogged King Harbor goes unexplained. City Manager Gene Albaugh, along with Nevada City Police Chief Lou Trovato and City Engineer Bill Falconi, with a combined local government experience of 130-years, have retired but continue to serve the city part-time. This has saved the Nevada City budget during the recession, allowing them to defer recruitment for new full-time replacements. Gene became Nevada City's City Manager in 2008 following a career where he served in the Counties of Calaveras and Contra Costa, Sierra College, and the cities of Colfax, Wheatland, Citrus Heights and Plymouth. With a significant budget deficit forecast for Martinez, City Manager Phil Vince seeks cost saving methods, including looking at "contracting out" to save on salaries, pensions and other benefits. Ojai City Manager Robert Clark, as City Managers are doing throughout the state, is working with the City Council and legal counsel to protect the local Ojai redevelopment funds. Delano City Manager Abdel Salem has announced his retirement at the end of June, 2011. He became Delano City Manager in 2003 after serving as the El Centro City Manager for some 23-years. About $500,000 in damage is reported in Morro Bay Harbor, where Andrea K. Lueker is City Manager. In Brookings, Oregon, where former South Gate City Manager Gary Milliman serves, the waves destroyed a seawall and sunk several vessels causing an estimated $10 million in damage, not including damage to the boats.
