La Quinta Round-About Roadrunner!
(Photo by Susan Simpson)

This Roadrunner sculpture, which stands in the center of the round-about at Avenue 52 and Jefferson Street was sculpted by New Mexico-based artist Don Kennell. It was originally installed at the 2014 Coachella Valley Music and Arts Festival. City of La Quinta Mayor Linda Evans was taken by the piece. It stands 14 feet tall and is 35 feet long. It arrived at its La Quinta traffic circle location on March 20, 2015. It appears that the sculpture is on loan to the City from the Coachella Festival's promoter, Goldenvoice.

City Executives in Placer County Cities

There are six (6) incorporated cities in the Placer County: Auburn, Colfax, Lincoln, Loomis, Rocklin and Roseville. This issue acknowledges some of the executives currently or who previously served in these Placer County cities.

Placer County cities are in the Sacramento Valley Division of the League of California Cities. Winters, a city in Yolo County, Council Member Jesse Loren is the Division President. No Placer County city officials are currently serving as Division officers. League Regional Public Affairs Manager Charles Anderson provides Division staff assistance.

This issue highlights professional executives in Placer County cities. We apologize up front to those we have overlooked. Some career profiles of public staff members are not posted making their information hard to find.

Auburn is the county seat of Placer County, California. Auburn is known for its California Gold Rush history. In the spring of 1848, a group of French gold miners arrived and camped in what would later be known as the Auburn Ravine. Gold mining operations moved up the ravine to the site of present-day Auburn. In 1865 the Central Pacific Railroad reached Auburn, as it was being built east from Sacramento toward Ogden, Utah. Auburn was incorporated in May 1888. The estimated 2019 population is 14,195. John W. Donlevy, Jr. is the City Manager and Amy Lind is the City Clerk.

Colfax is named in honor of United State Vice President Schuyler Colfax (1896-1873), who visited the town in 1865 while inspecting the progress of the Central Pacific Railroad. A bronze stature of the Vice President stands at Railroad Street and Grass Valley Street. This is the only known statue of Schuyler Colfax in the United States. He served as Vice President with President Ulysses S. Grant. The Town of Colfax was previously known as Alden Grove, Alder Grove, Illinoistown and Upper Corral. In April 1852, the Reelfoot Williams Gang robbed a Nevada City Stagecoach of $7,000 in gold bullion near "Illinoistown." This is thought to be the first stagecoach robbery in the gold country. The town was incorporated as the City of Colfax in February 1910. The 2019 estimated population is 2,002. The City Manager is Wes Heathcock, and the City Clerk position is currently vacant. Laurie Van Groningen is a consultant who serves as the Colfax Finance Director. Tim Ryan is the elected City Treasurer.

Wesley Clay Heathcock came to Colfax as the Community Services Director in August 2015. He was appointed City Manager in December 2017. Wes started as Interim City Manager. Wes joined the Sacramento Chapter of APWA in March 2016.

Loomis gets its name from one of the town's pioneers, James Loomis. It is said that at one time James was the entire town: saloon keeper, railroad agent, express agent, and postmaster. Loomis has been a major fruit-shipping station. It's original post office, under the name Placer, was opened in 1861. The name was changed to Smithville in 1862, the Pino in 1869 and finally in 1890 the Southern Pacific Railroad decided on the name: Loomis. The town was in danger of being annexed by the City of Rocklin and decided to incorporate in December 1984. The 2019 estimate population of Loomis is 6,866. Sean Rabe is the Town Manager, and Crickett Strock is the City Clerk. Roger Carroll is the Finance Director and Town Treasurer.

Loomis Town Manager Sean Rabe began his working career as a consultant in Amador County in 2003. From November 2001 to December 2006 Sean worked as the Editor and General Manager of the Amador Ledger Dispatch. He served on the Amador County Transportation Commission from 2006 to 2008. In March 2008 Sean joined the Sutter Creek city staff as Assistant City Manager. He became the Sutter Creek City Manager in May 2010. In January 2014 Sean started service as the City Manager in the Town of Colma. He worked in that assignment until becoming the Loomis Town Manager in July 2017. Sean earned a BA in government from California State University, Sacramento and an MPP in public policy from California State University, Northridge.

Rocklin is closely tied to the transcontinental railroad. In 1862 the Pacific Railroad Act granted the Central Pacific Railroad land near Secret Ravine. In 1864, the Central Pacific Railroad completed an extension from Newcastle to Secret Ravine. In named the area Rocklin after the granite quarry and used the location as a refueling and water stop. The Central Pacific built a roundhouse in 1867. The transcontinental railroad was completed in 1869, significantly increasing railroad traffic through the town. The Rocklin post office opened in 1868. The town incorporated in February 1893. The 2019 estimated population is 68,823. Aly Zimmermann is the City Manager and Hope Ithurburn is the City Clerk.

Roseville is the largest city in Placer County. Originally a stagecoach station called Griders. In 1864 the Central Pacific Railroad tracks were completed from Sacramento. The place where the tracks met the California Central Railroad was named "Junction". Junction eventually became known as Roseville. The city incorporated in April 1909. The city was a railroad town for decades. Though the railroad remained important, air travel and the development of the national interstate highway system impacts that importance. The 2019 estimated population of Roseville is 141,500. Dominick Casey is the City Manager and Sonia Orozco is the City Clerk.

City Manager Dominick Casey began his public service career in 2008 as the Assistant Director of Parks and Recreation in the City of Henderson, Nevada. Dominick joined the Roseville city staff in 2011 as the Director of Parks, Recreation & Libraries. In 2015 he was appointed Roseville Assistant City Manager and he was tagged as the Acting City Manager in 2018. Dominick was appointed City Manager in Roseville in July 2018. He earned a BS in parks and recreation management from Northern Arizona University and an MS in organizational leadership from Chadron State College.

Jill Geller was appointed to serve as the Roseville Parks, Recreation & Libraries Director, joining the city in October 2019. Jill previously worked for the Johnson County Park and Recreation District in Johnson County, Kansas. She was the agency's Executive Director the last 5-years of her 30-years with the District.

Retired City Manager Pat West

Pat West has lived and managed through just about anything a city can experience during his 39-years working in city government.

Pat has developed successful strategies and paths to issues facing local government. Pat can help you, whether you are a City Manager looking for ways to turn your city around, or a developer needing assistance navigating the complexities of the political and/or entitlement process.

Pat has served as a government official in the Gateway Cities area for the past 39-years, working in both a contract city and a large charter city. Pat has held a variety of department head positions and he has served as City Manager for 23-years of his 39-years in public service.

Services:

Every city is unique; there is no "one size fits all." Over the course of Pat's municipal government career, he has experienced most of the challenges cities are confronted with. Whether it be fiscal sustainability, working with elected officials, homelessness, working with developers, or the myriad of other issues facing cities today, Pat can offer strategies for success.
